From the LONDON CHRONICLE of June 22.

The ANNUAL REGISTER; or, a View of the HISTORY, POLITICKS and LITERATURE, for the Year 1768.

THE following is the Subſtance of this Compiler's Hiſtory of Europe for the Year 1768. "War has again broken out. The whole Eaſtern Side of Europe, from the Polar Circle to the Middle of the Mediterranean, is intereſted in its Iſſue. The great Empires of Ruſſia and Turkey, the moſt powerful in Aſia, as well as in Europe, are engaged. Religion has entered into the Quarrels, and added to the Bitterneſs. The miſerable Country of Poland is the Theatre of a Contention, not more deſtructive in its Conſequences, than ſingular in its Cauſes and Pretects. The deſpotic Power of Ruſſia becomes the Guardian of Poliſh Freedom; and the Catholic Religion flies for Protection to the Standard of Mahomet.

As yet the nearer Parts of Europe are not directly engaged. France has, indeed, made an extraordinary Movement, and it is not eaſy to foreſee what the Event may be.------Loaded as ſhe is with a heavy Debt, and wounded in many eſſential Parts of her Commerce, it would require all her Attention, together with a conſiderable Length of Time, to leſſen the one, and effectually to reſtore the other.

In this Situation ſhe has, however, ventured upon Enterprizes, which, at another Time, might have plunged her into a War, and entirely prevented the Attainment of Objects ſo apparently neceſſary to her. About the Middle of laſt Summer ſhe ſent a conſiderable Body of Forces to take Poſſeſſion of the Iſland of Corſica. This Meaſure was in Conſequence of a formal Treaty concluded with the Republic of Genoa, by which the latter cedes, for an indeterminate Time, the Kingdom of Corſica to the French King. Thus was a Nation diſpoſed of without its Conſent, like Trees upon an Eſtate.

From various Cauſes, ſo extraordinary a Step has hitherto produced no viſible Motion in any of the Powers intereſted in the Treaty of Aix-la-Chapelle; the ſmaller acquieſcing through Fear, ſome of the Greater from a Change in political Connexion, and others, perhaps, waiting the Iſſue of ſecret Negotiations, or a more favourable Juncture, for the Aſſertion of their Rights.

As an Acquiſition to France, Corſica may be regarded as an Object of Conſideration, eſpecially to the Maritime Powers.----- Much has been ſaid, on one Side and the other, of the Value of this Iſland.-----It is certain, that its Situation ſeems to give it a Command of great Part of the Coaſt of Italy, and if the Harbours are not of the beſt, ſome by Art and Expence may be rendered tolerable, and ſmall Privateers may iſſue from them, capable of giving great Diſturbance to Trade in Time of War. The French have ſpoken their Opinion of the Value of this Iſland very diſtinctly, by going to ſo much Expence, and running ſuch Riſques, in order to acquire it.

The King of Sardinia, a wiſe and politic Prince, who has ſo long and ſo ably ſupported the Ballance of Italy, ſeems to have been the only Power who regarded it in the Light in which it deſerved. It is ſaid, that he applied upon this Occaſion to a great Power, and ancient Ally, and propoſed their jointly taking ſuch effectual Meaſures as would have enſured Succeſs; but this Application being without Effect, he was obliged to remain an unwilling Spectator of an Evil, which, ſtanding alone, he was unable to remedy.

The Attempt upon Corſica is not the only extraordinary Event which this Year has produced in the South of France. The peaceable Eſtates of the Sovereign Pontiff, both in France and in Italy, have for once had their Slumbers broken by the Alarms of War, and have ſuffered Invaſions and bloodleſs Conqueſts from thoſe who had been looked upon and ſtiled, the beſt Sons and Defenders of that Church. This may be regarded among the firſt apparent Effects of that ſettled and ſtrict Union, which at preſent ſo cloſely binds the different Branches of the Houſe of Bourbon. Happy, if it ſhould have none more conſiderable!---- Though as Proteſtants, we may be glad of any Event that reduced the Power of the Roman Pontiff, yet as good Politicians, we muſt regret, that any Accident ſhould throw ſo noble a Country as that of Italy into the Hands of ſo formidable an Alliance.

The Reſentment excited by Pretenſions, ſuch a Senſe of national Injury and Diſhonour, being imbittered and inſtanced by the Spirit of Cruelty and Animoſity, which is almoſt always inſeparable from religious Diſputes, that unhappy Country (Poland) has exhibited in the Courſe of the Year, Scenes of Horror, Calamity, and Deſolation, with which we are happily but little acquainted in this Quarter of the World. Citizen deſtroying Citizen; Foreigners drenching the vaſt Plains of a great Country in the Blood of its beſt Inhabitants, and the Fields covered with the unburied Bodies of thoſe that uſed to till them, are but a Part of the Horrors of this dreadful Picture. We ſee a great Monarch, who wants neither Parts nor Senſibility, a ſilent and helpleſs Spectator of the Ruin of his Country, and indebted for his own Protection to the Deſtroyers of it. We alſo ſee a great and ancient Nobility, who have, for a Succeſſion of Ages, been famous for their martial Exploits in the Defence of their Country, now fly for Refuge to the common Enemies of the Chriſtian Name, and offer to put themſelves and their Country into Hands ſo odious to them.

Ruſſia is upon the Eve of a Trial of Skill with a great and potent Neighbour.---It is indeed probable that there will be extraordinary Exertions made on both Sides. If the Empreſs of Ruſſia poſſeſſes a Spirit worthy of a Succeſſor of Peter the Great, the preſent Grand Signior is ſaid alſo to ſhew an Extent of Mind and Capacity, much ſuperior to any of his late Predeceſſors. If no other Powers interfere in it, the War, notwithſtanding, may not be of long Continuance.

Notwithſtanding any Diſinclination this Court (Ruſſia) might have to enter into the War, it betrayed no Symptoms of Weakneſs or Meanneſs in endeavouring to avoid it. On the contrary, it ſhewed great Dignity and Firmneſs, upon the Arreſt of its Miniſter at Conſtantinople; upon which Occaſion it loudly juſtified his Conduct, and applauded his Spirit, in not making humiliating Conceſſions, or ſubmitting to Conditions, that were derogatory to the Honour and Glory of the Empire.

There is no Doubt but that the Applications which have been repeatedly made for ſome Years, by Numbers of the Poliſh Nobility to the Grand Signior, have had their Weight with him. The Propoſals lately made by the Nobility of Podolia, and ſome other Provinces, who, it is ſaid, have offered to put themſelves, and their Countries, under the Turkiſh Government, upon certain Conditions, muſt alſo be flattering to the Ambition of this Prince. Without entering farther into the Motives, it is certain that the Preparations for the War in the Turkiſh Empire exceed any Thing of the ſame Nature that has been known for more than an Age; that no Expence is ſpared in the military Department; and that the Sultan himſelf attends to every Thing with a Care and Aſſiduity, which ſufficiently ſhews how deeply he intereſts himſelf in the Conſequences.

What Part the great Powers of Germany will take in this War, or whether they will take any, muſt be at preſent a Matter of great Uncertainty, and perhaps not yet decided in their own Breaſts; as it will probably depend upon future Contingencies, and the particular Circumſtances that may attend the Progreſs of a Fire that has been kindled at their own Doors. It is certain they have been particularly attentive to what has already paſſed; have compleated their Armies, and taken every other Meaſure to be prepared for all Events that may happen in a Diſcuſſion ſo intereſting to them. The King of Pruſſia has, in general, approved of the Conduct of the Court of Ruſſia in the Affairs of Poland; and has, upon every Occaſion, ſhewn his Diſapprobation of the Acts of the Confederates. The Power of Ruſſia is at once formidable, and neceſſary to him.

The Court of Vienna has been much more reſerved, and without any public Declaration, has yet ſhewn no Marks of Satisfaction at the Meaſures purſued in that Country. It may be remarked, that upon the Requiſition ſaid to be made by the Empreſs of Ruſſia at Vienna, to know what Part that Court would take in the War, the Anſwer was delivered in very cold Terms, "that they would remain neuter, and that their Armies were deſigned to protect their own Dominions." It is alſo obſervable, that ſome Ruſſians Troops having ſome afterwards purſued a Party of the Confederates within the Confines of Hungary, where they killed ſeveral of them; as ſoon as the News reached Vienna, Prince Kannitz ſummoned Prince Gallitzin, the Ruſſian Ambaſſador, and deſired him to acquaint his Court, that their Imperial Majeſties expected immediate Satisfaction for this Violation of their Territories."

LONDON, AUGUST 10.

TUESDAY a courier from Peterſburgh arrived at his excellency the Ruſſian Ambaſſador's, in Soho-ſquare, with the confirmation and particulars, it is ſaid, of the late victory gained by the Ruſſians over the Turks.

We hear the livery of London have been well adviſed to ſummon a common-council to meet on the 25th of this month, at the half-moon tavern, in caſe the grievances ſpecified in their petition be not redreſſed, on or before the 28th current; the 40 days allowed by Magna Charta, for the redreſs of grievances on petition, being fully compleat and ended on the 24th day of Auguſt. So that the deſign our miniſtry had propoſed to themſelves, for carrying over the hearing of the city petition till the opening of the next parliament, may probably prove abortive.

We hear that the late tour of a great perſon to the weſt, was to learn the temper of the people in that part of the country; ſeveral other great perſons are in other counties, it is ſuppoſed on a like errand.

It is apprehended by a certain nobleman, and imagined now by all his friends, that it will not be long e're he is cited to appear before a certain aſſembly in the city, to anſwer ſome charges of a very peculiar and weighty nature, reſpecting his former conduct, in the uſe of the great power entruſted with them.

To ſhew the vaſt increaſe of the Eaſt-India trade within ſo ſhort a time as 20 years ago, there were not above 16 ſhips in the company's ſervice, and now they have between 60 and 70 ſail.

The company's territories in the Eaſt-Indies, at preſent, are computed to be 1000 miles in length, and about 600 wide.

In the year 1748, the Britiſh miniſtry having inſiſted on the French court's ſending the young Pretender out of its dominions, otherwiſe they would not ſend any ambaſſador whilſt he remained there, the demand was complied with, and the Pretender was even taken out of the box at the play-houſe, and baniſhed. In return for which, the French, it is ſaid, have now inſiſted on our court's not harbouring or permitting Paoli, the Corſican chief, to come to England, or they will recall their ambaſſador. Which is reported to be the true reaſon of Paoli's not coming.

A letter from Bengal in February laſt, to a gentleman here, ſays, "We have had great alarms on the coaſt, occaſioned by the advance of a body of troops under Hyder Ally, who has taken two or three forts, ſome pieces of cannon, and ſeveral priſoners from us; which ſucceſs has ſo greatly elated him, as to make him enter on further enterprizes. The above occurrence, for the preſent, occaſions the utmoſt confuſion on all parts of the coaſt."

Letters from Corſica adviſe, that notwithſtanding all the vigilance of the French, aſſaſſinations were ſtill daily committed; that a French officer had juſt been found murdered at Fracando; that M. Abatucci ſtill maintained his ground on the other ſide of the mountains, with about 4000 men; and that it was even feared the truce concluded for four months, would not expire without ſome fatal event.

AUGUST 12. Letters from Italy, of the lateſt date, intimate, that general Paoli's flight from Corſica, is to be aſcribed to political motives, and not thoſe of abſolute neceſſity; and that it is the ſtrong opinion of the Italian politicians, that as ſoon as the brave General has negociated the important affairs which brought him to the continent, he will return to Corſica, collect his ſcattered forces and companions, join M. de Abatucci, and riſe, like a Phœnix, from her aſhes, with a renewed and double vigour.

By a perſon arrived in town from Bombay, who came home in the Aſia Indiaman, we are informed, that a conſiderable quantity of treaſure, in gold and ſilver, with very antique inſcriptions thereon, had, ſome time before the ſhip ſailed from that place, been dug up in a cave within a few miles of Bombay, ſuppoſed to have been depoſited there long before any European ſettlement had been made on that coaſt.

The laſt letters from Gibraltar mention, that a Mooriſh admiral had juſt entered the Mediterranean, with 9 ſail of ſtout corſairs, fitted out by order of the Emperor of Morocco, to cruize againſt the ſmall European powers, with which that prince is at war.

A few days ſince a duel with piſtols was fought near Norwich, between two gentlemen of that city, one was ſhot through the right arm, and the other ſlightly wounded in the belly; their diſpute aroſe from an argument relative to the petition now preparing by that corporation.

We hear that the D---- of B------ intended purchaſing the manor of Havitree, in Devonſhire, which is advertiſed for ſale; but on being informed that the gallows on which the late libel was ſtuck againſt, ſtood in the manor, he has declined all thoughts of it.

BRISTOL, AUGUST 12.

Laſt Wedneſday was held a meeting of the freeholders of the county of Worceſter, at the County-hall in that city, in order to conſider of and ſign a petition, for a redreſs of their violated rights of election, which was agreed to without one diſſenting voice. At this meeting were preſent Mr. Dowdeſwell, and a very conſiderable number of freeholders.

We hear the city of Worceſter intend following the ſame example next week.

It is expected that the meeting of the freeholders of the county of Wilts, on Wedneſday next, at Devizes, will be the largeſt ever known on any occaſion, as all parts of the county ſeem zealouſly determined to exert their utmoſt to promote a petition to the throne (or, to the three eſtates of the realm, King, Lords and Commons) to obtain a redreſs of their ſeveral grievances, and to the ſupport of their right of free election.

KALUS, July 18. Almoſt all the troops which form that part of the Ruſſian army commanded by prince Gallitzin, are at preſent on the territories of the Turks, whoſe conſternation has been very great ever ſince the affair of the 13th.-----The Seraſkier's army, which was 60,000 ſtrong, is entirely diſperſed. In the place where it had encamped, the Ruſſians made yeſterday ſeveral diſcharges of cannon and muſquetry in ſign of victory. At preſent it is univerſally believed, that the fortreſs of Choczim, in which there is a numerous garriſon, will ſoon aſk to capitulate. The Grand Vizir, with his army, has taken the rout of Bender, and it is probable that the Ruſſians will follow it.

WARSAW, July 26. The defeat of the Turks near Choczim is confirmed. The Seraſkier, who commanded the army, retired before the battle was over, and ſuch of his troops as had entered the camp, were driven out from thence and obliged to enter Choczim, to the number of 13,000 men. On the 13th the Ruſſians began to batter the fortreſs. The 15th the Turks made two ſallies, but were driven back with loſs. If we may believe letters from Podolia, dated the 17th, the place was then taken, as the Ruſſians had made a general diſcharge in their camp, in token of victory.

BOSTON, SEPTEMBER 4.

Extract of a Letter from Mr. Sherwood, Agent for this Colony, at the Court of Great Britain, to his Honour Governor Wanton, dated July 5, 1769, laid before the General Aſſembly, at their laſt Seſſion.

"In Company with ſeveral of the Agents for the North-American Colonies, and particularly for New-York, Pennſylvania, and Maſſachuſetts-Bay, I attended the Earl of Hillſborough, on the Subject of the American Grievances: He repeatedly aſſured us, that the Legiſlature and Miniſtry here had laid aſide every Idea of raiſing a Revenue in America for the Service of Government; that it was reſolved upon by them, to repeal the Act laying Duties upon Paper, Glaſs and Colours; and that every reaſonable and proper Meaſure would be taken, to remove the Jealouſies, Fears, and Apprehenſions of the Americans."

His Honour the Governor likewiſe laid before the Aſſembly a Letter from the Earl of Hillſborough, conceived in the moſt reſpectful and complaiſant Terms, differing in Stile and Manner from thoſe heretofore received by this Colony from his Lordſhip.

QUEBEC, SEPTEMBER 7.

We hear from Montreal, that on Monday the 4th inſt. about 7 o'clock in the morning, there was felt there a ſhock of an earthquake, attended with a rumbling noiſe like thunder, which ſhook all the houſes in town, but it is hoped has not done any damage.

NEW-YORK, OCTOBER 2.

The 26th Sept. put in here in Diſtreſs, the French Ship Amiable Suſete, Thomas Laſalle, Maſter, bound from Aucayes on Hiſpaniola, to Bourdeaux, who on the 6th inſt. in Lat. 28 Degrees and 30 Minutes North, and Long. 30, 3 Degrees and 42 Minutes, met with a moſt violent Gale of Wind at North Eaſt, which laſted until the 13th, with ſome Variation; during which Time the Ship ſuffered conſiderable Damage in her upper Works.

And on the 28th Sept. the French Ship Leſperance, Jaques Hermand, Maſter, alſo from Aucayes, bound to Bourdeaux, put in here in great Diſtreſs, having met with a moſt violent Gale of Wind or Hurricane, on the 5th Sept. in Lat. 25 Degrees and 32 Minutes North, and Long. 30, 6 Degrees and 23 Minutes, in which he loſt his Main and Mizen-maſts, with all the Sails and Rigging thereto belonging, and ſuffered ſo much in her Hull that ſhe appears a perfect Wreck.

We hear from Quebec, that Mr. Latham, Surgeon to the King's Regiment, who is Partner with the celebrated Engliſh Inoculator Mr. Sutton, has inoculated there for the Small-Pox, 360 Perſons, within the Space of three Months: This Method of Inoculation, neither confines the Patient to their Houſes, nor hinders them from doing their uſual Occupations.------The ſame Advice adds, that Mr. Latham, was then at Montreal, where he was inoculating with the uſual Succeſs.

Extract of a Letter from Penſacola, Auguſt 19.

"If the Spaniards do not take this province from us, it will ſoon become of conſequence.---On the 2d inſt. arrived at New-Orleans, General O'Rieley, to take poſſeſſion of Louiſiannia for the King of Spain; they write me he has brought with him 4500 troops; but from the number of tranſports, I do not ſuppoſe they could have brought above 2500 or 3000; and if they had no intention of employing them any way elſe, that is too many by 2000.---We have certain intelligence, that for ſome time paſt, the Spaniards at the Havana, have been tampering with ſome of the Creek Indian Chiefs, and next month are to have a congreſs with them at Apalachicola River.---The Spaniards want land to make a ſettlement there, which if they procure, can make themſelves maſters of this province when they pleaſe, and probably prevail on the Indians to go to war with the neighbouring provinces: It appears the Spaniards are determined to drive us out of the province if they can; they are exceedingly jealous of our being ſo near the coaſt of Mexico; and in caſe of a war, our being able from the ſituation of this port, to put an entire ſtop to their trade in the bay of Mexico.---Moſt of the French at New-Orleans ſeem determined to leave that place and come and ſettle on this ſide the Miſſiſippi.

Extract of a Letter from Fort Bedford, September 21.

"Every Thing here is in Confuſion. The Soldiers (who are on their March to Fort-Pitt) came here laſt Tueſday, and the Goods belonging to Capt. Calendar, had been put under their Care. Yeſterday Intelligence was received, that the Black Boys intended to attack them on their March, near the Allegany Mountain; which was confirmed by Numbers of ſuſpected Perſons, who were ſeen paſſing up in ſmall Parties. Among the Reſt, J. Smith, ſuſpected as one of the principal Ringleaders, with two others in Company, paſſed round the Town, without touching, Yeſterday Noon; who being met by J. Holnies, Eſq; he immediately gave Notice to Callendar; upon which four Men were ſent in Purſuit of them, who overtook them about five Miles hence, and commanded them to ſurrender, on which Smith preſented his Gun at one of the Men, who was ſtruggling with one of his Companions---fired at him, and ſhot his Companion through the Back, of which Wound he died about three Hours after------An Inqueſt was immediately held on the Body, who brought their Verdict wilful Murder; and laſt Night Smith was ſent off at 12 o'Clock to Carliſle, under Guard of three Men, with Orders to take Bye-Ways, for fear of a Reſcue."

OCTOBER 5. On Saturday laſt arrived here from Hull, the Brig Friends Good Will, William Spicer, Maſter, and brought a great Quantity of Britiſh Merchandize, ſhipped by ſome Traders in England on their own Account and Riſque, and conſigned to ſundry Perſons in this City. As theſe Goods were ſhipped contrary to the Agreements entered into by the Merchants, and Traders, and after the ſame was known in England, the Perſons to whom they are conſigned, do not receive them, as the Committee, in this Caſe, cannot ſtore them; they are therefore, we hear, to be carried back. This firm, determined and peaceable Conduct, may convince the World, that as our Merchants and Traders entered into their Agreements with Deliberation, ſo they are reſolved inevitably to adhere to them; at the ſame Time it is hoped that this Inſtance of their Reſolution, will diſcourage any farther Attempts to violate, or take Advantage of their Agreements.

Extract of a Letter from Auguſta, September 23.

"We hear from Mobille, that the Choctaws are now in their turn ſuing for peace from the Creeks.

"By a gentleman from Virginia, we have accounts of a violent hurricane that has happened in North-Caroliña, and done conſiderable damage. It laſted for ſome hours, and hardly left a tree ſtanding; houſes and fences were carried quite away, and the corn fields entirely ruined; the effects were to be ſeen for 100 miles, and the public roads were ſo obſtructed with fallen trees, &c. that the gentleman who brings this account found a difficulty of travelling 12 miles onward in a day, though perhaps in the time he rode 30 or 60 miles altogether."
